Many proofs are here given, and we solicit an inquiry from the public into all we publish, feeling assured they will find them perfectly reliable, and the medicine worthy their best confidence and patronage.

From the distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Materia Medica, Bowdoin College. Dear Sir: I delayed answering the receipts of your paration, until I had an opportunity of witnessing its effects 200 dozen very best embroidered, plain, and hem-stitched n my own family, or in the families of my friends. This I have now done with a high degree of satisfaction, in eases both of adults and children. I have found it, as its ingredients show, a powerful reme-

Fading Flowers.

The leaves are falling from the trees,

More chill and boisterous is the breeze, More hourse the waterfall;

The sky, o'ermantled now with clouds,

The flowers are fading all;

As year on year rolls on ; ... And month by month, and day by day ; The old are more alone. Still more alone ! alas ! 'tis vain New hopes, new hearts to find; What magic can restore again Youth's brightly vision'd mind? Age walks amid an alter'd world, Mid bustling crowds unknown; New scenes bath novelty unfurl'd, And left the old alone.

" Sere leaves that dangle from Life's tree"-Thus speaks the hoary head-"A relie of the past are We, A remnant of the dead; Like emblems of forlorn decay, We linger to the last; But Death's long night shall turn to day,

Father Matthew preached his farewell sermon on this continent, in St. Mary's church at New York, on Sunday, the 19th ult. He was to leave for his native land, the following Saturday. We copy from the Tribune a synopsis of his interesting discourse:

"Fourteen years have elapsed since I first erected the pure and spotless banner of Temperance in my own beloved country. My countrymen, always ready to follow virtuous impulses flocked around the standard, and the highways were literally crowded with multitudes coming to my residence to enroll themselves in the Temperance Association; so that, in the course of six years, upwards of five millions of my countrymen had taken at my hands the all saving Temperance Perfumery, Musical Instruments, &c.

REPAIRING done with neatness and despatch, on and vice disappeared, and the change in their manners was as remarkable as their change from the use of in toxicating drinks. The Jails were all empty, and even the great Richmond in Dublin was entirely closed. This happy state of things continued for several years and Ireland once more might be entitled the "Island of Saints" Oh, happy state of things, which should never have been interrupted, and which should have lasted forever! but the devil began to exert Lis
